After graduate school, then-community organizer Barack Obama headed Project Vote! in Chicago to register and mobilize voters. A skill that came handy later on!

HOW OBAMA WON?

fb.me/beingliberal.org

The top people in the Romney campaign were paid $134 million in this election. The top consultants in the Obama campaign were paid $6 million.

Democrats just spent their money smarter, better and with less nepotism or favoritism.

It's stunning that a community organizer would be so much more efficient than a head of one of the largest private equity funds...

November 25, 2012

"The ancient site of Chichen Itza, with its 365-step pyramid, will play host on 21 December to an event dubbed "The End of the Long Count Mayan Calendar".

"A ceremony will also be held that day in Copan, the main Maya site in Honduras, with the country's President Porfirio Lobo in attendance.

"But an attempt by the Chorti ethnic group to recreate an ancient Mayan ball game as part of the festivities has failed.

"In neighboring El Salvador, Tourism Minister Jose Napoleon Duarte said a light show and a "night of contact with the stars" are planned in the El Tazumal and Joya de Ceren sites in the west of the country."

Ok, the image is Aztec. The Mayans saw the end of the Long Count as transformational and cataclysmic with renewal occurring in the following cycle. Looked at from the wider perspective, the last century has been only less than the last 50th of the Long Count. Quite a transformational century with some cataclysms (climate change)!

The planet is changing, and our individual perspectives are changing as our consciousness is awakening to a new way of being. According to the ancient teachings of the Mayans and other indigenous cultures I have researched, it IS the end of the world as we have KNOWN it. Our new world is being born.

Come prepared. Don't try to figure out the ballot when you're in the booth!

The early voting lines in Florida are long. Really long.... Like 3 hours or more in some places.

That's not shocking, considering that the ballots are longer than ever and early voting has been reduced.

But Governor Rick Scott is refusing to extend early voting, which ends tomorrow, and that could be a huge problem. Tune in to PoliticsNation tonight for all the latest.
